MELROSE HIGH SCHOOL

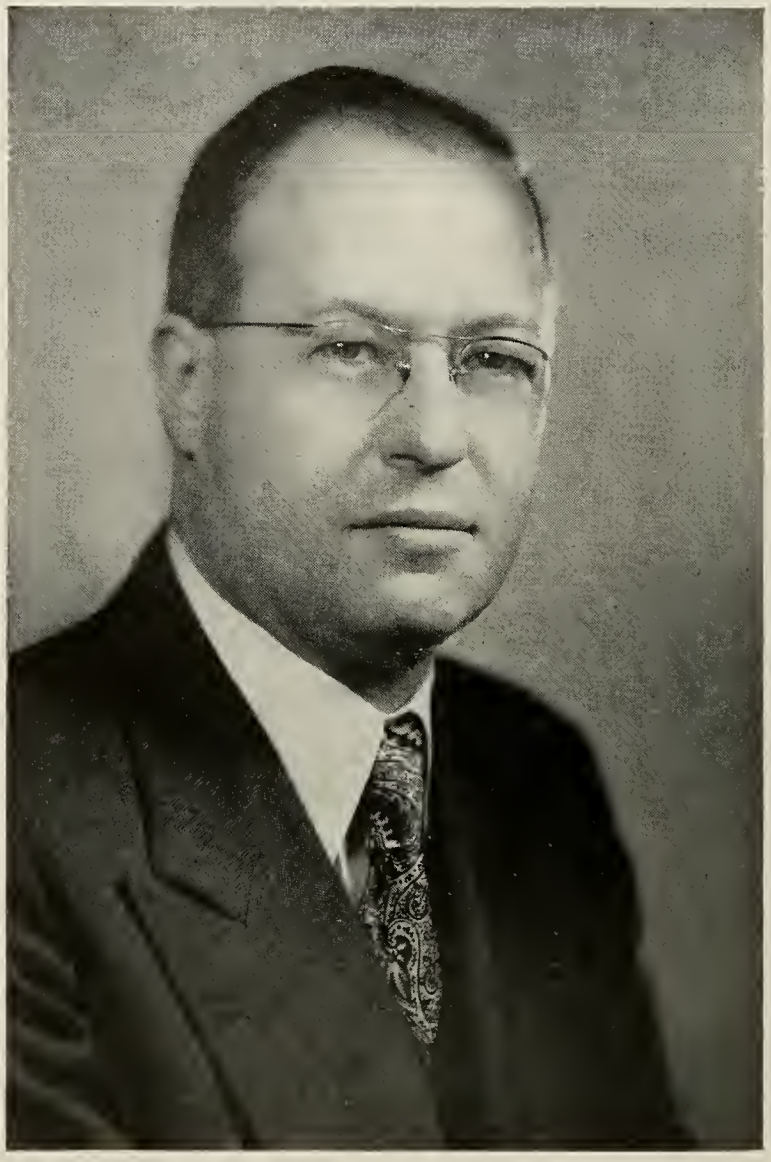
The Log for 1950

Melrose, Massachusetts

Mr. Henry Hughes

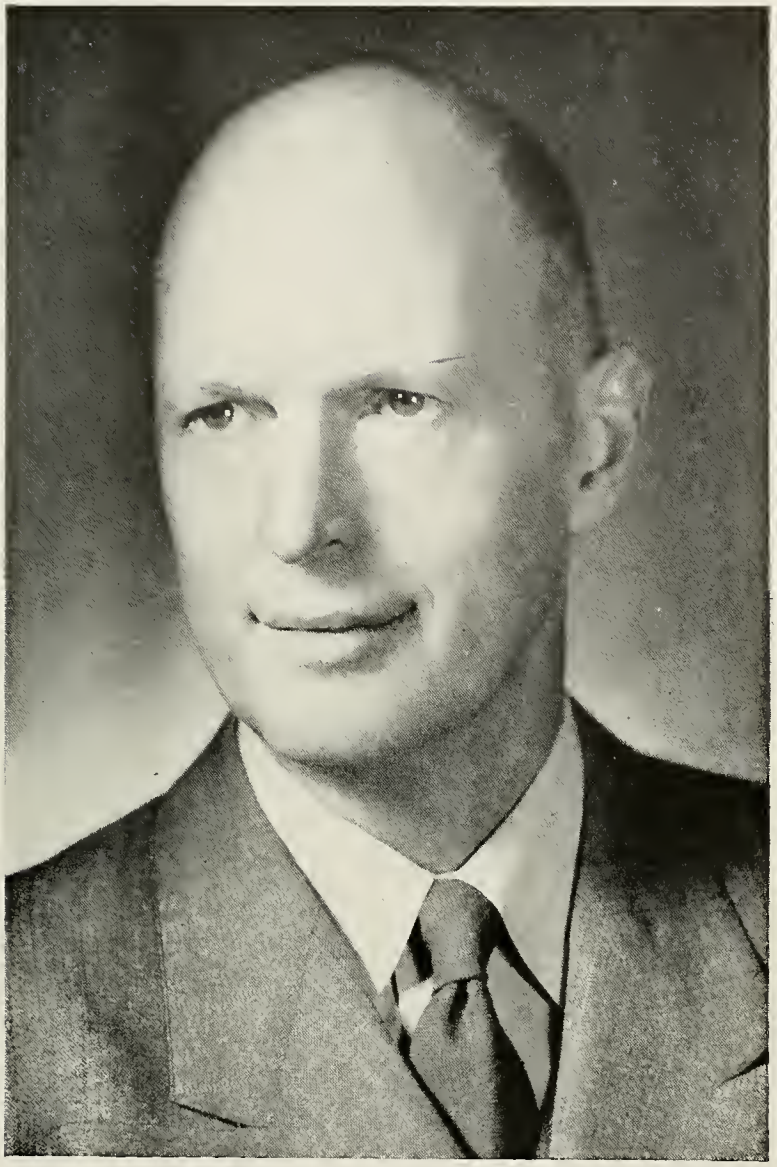
Dedication

TO ONE WHOSE FRIENDLINESS AND THOUGHTFULNESS HAS EARNED POPULARITY WITH ALL STUDENTS; TO ONE WHOSE OWN GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP INSPIRED LIKE QUALITIES IN THE TEAMS COACHED BY HIM FOR TWO SUCCESSFUL YEARS; TO ONE WHO HAS GIVEN MELROSE HIGH SCHOOL THE HONOR OF WINNING THE NEW ENGLAND CHAMPIONSHIP IN HOCKEY; TO MR. HENRY HUGHES, WE DEDICATE THE 1950 LOG.



Howard B. Wilder

For three and a half years, Mr. Wilder, the Class of 1950 knew the privilege of your leadership, shared the generosity of your friendship, and the guidance of your wisdom. The advancement of your career was our loss, but we are proud to have been your final class. We wish you a bright future, and hope our futures will give you cause to be proud of us.



Harold W. Poole

This small portion of a year has been enough, Mr. Poole, for the Class of 1950 to recognize your capable qualities and fitness for the high office of Principal of Melrose High School. Your success as our new leader merely justifies the faith we have had in you for four years, because, as Submaster, your fairness, approachability, and understanding won our loyalty and esteem.

Appreciation

FOR all who have contributed to the success of this yearbook, the Log Staff of 1950 is sincerely appreciative. Special thanks are due to Mr. Poole, who has so cheerfully and willingly answered all demands on his time at a particularly busy period; to Mrs. Foster, for her inspiring direction of the art work; to Miss Ring and her typing classes, for their loyal service; and to the English teachers, for their graciously extended help.

Student Council

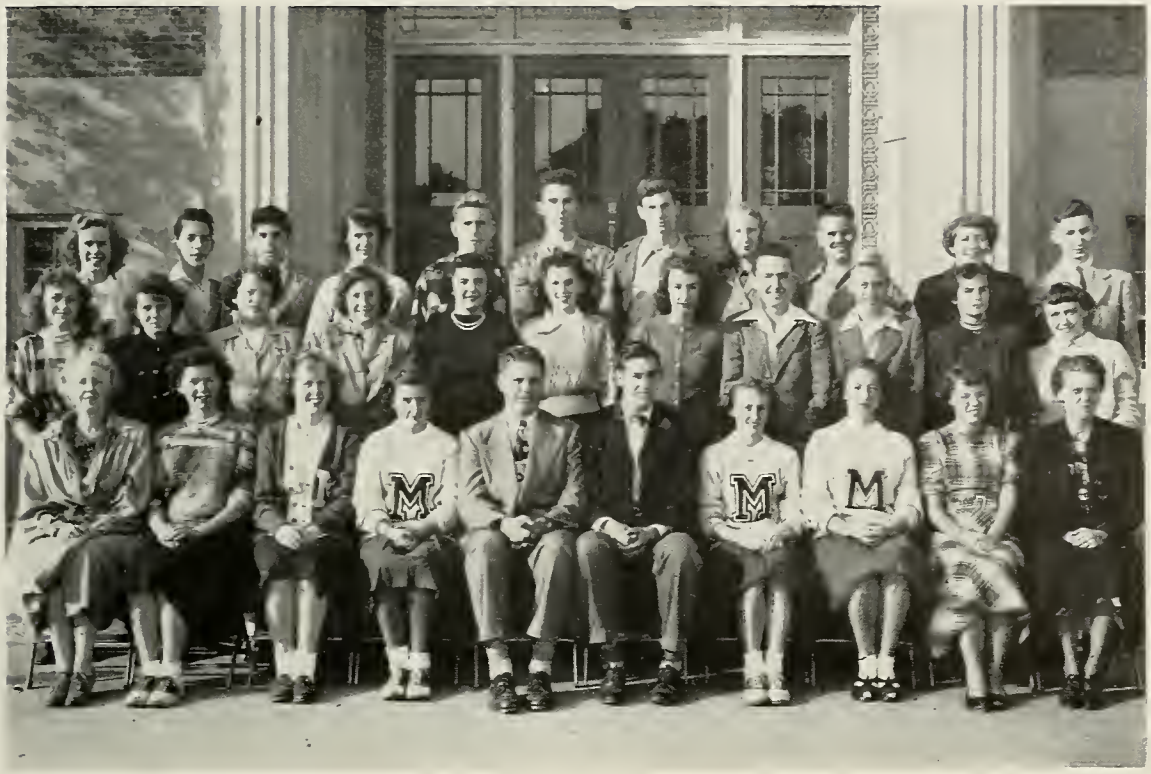
President: Calvin Collins
Vice-President: Philip Sheridan
Secretary: Barbara Whitney
Treasurer: Anne Drummey
Faculty Advisor: Mr. A. Imrie Dixon

The Student Council, composed of the officers of the three upper classes and two representatives from each class, conducted an extremely fine year.

As hosts at the Convention of the Eastern Massachusetts Student Councils, the group put on an excellent program, featuring our Glee Club, the Modern Dance Club, and the Rhythm Kings. Efficiency and friendliness were the keynotes, and many considered our Convention as among the best ever held.

Again this year, the Council sponsored the Winter Ball. It was held on a Saturday night, and the dance was a wonderful success with over 150 couples in attendance. Ruth Webb and Bob Leslie highlighted the evening by leading a clever Conga line. Roy Shorey, as Master of Cermonies, introduced entertainers who did especially humorous and original performances.

Behind the scenes, Mr. Dixon, Miss Kershaw, and the members of the Council have been striving to formulate a point system whereby student activity participation can be better regulated. Buses were sent to Providence, Rhode Island, so that more students would be able to attend the New England Championship hockey games. The Council members hope to write a new Manual for next year's freshmen, in which high school functions will be represented with more enthusiasm and emphasis than formerly.



Honor Society

President: Roy Shorey
Vice-President: Frank Lottridge
Secretary: Anne Drummey
Treasurer: Rosemary Feck
Faculty Advisors: Miss Helen Kershaw, Miss Agnes Ring

In September, 1949, the Melrose High School Honor Society began its fourth successful year, prepared to live up to its high ideals. In an impressive induction cermony in October, the new members received their gold M pins, a symbol of this organization.

In January the Honor Society paid respects to Mr. Wilder, who resigned as Principal of Melrose High School. Elaine Maclachlan presented Mr. Wilder with a gift of three books. Following the pleasant reception, refreshments were served.

A second induction of new members was held in March, 1950. Limitation of the number of extra-curricular activities according to marks was discussed. The traditional field trips were held later in the spring.

Melrose High School should be proud of the large number of pupils who have maintained the high standards of the Honor Society this year.

Senior Speakers' Bureau

President: Harry Berejikian
Vice-President: Seaver Peters
Secretary: Jean Tibbetts
Treasurer: Nancy Grant
Faculty Advisor: Mr. Stanewick

The Melrose High School's Speakers' Bureau is an active and important club, which meets every Wednesday.

The Senior members of Speakers' Bureau are: Anne Drummey, Jean Tibbetts, Nancy Grant, Ray Frye, Seaver Peters, Harry Berejikian, Judith Potter, Katherine Gridley, Eleanor Johnson, Kenneth Miller, Carol Briston, Calvin Collins, Barbara Whitney, and Roy Shorey. Mr. Stanewick is the advisor of this club.

At the regular meetings, educational movies are shown, chosen teachers tell of their various interests and hobbies, and informal discussions are held from time to time.

The members of the Speakers' Bureau introduce all the assembly programs. These introductions are prepared and presented in any way that the student chooses. This work helps to give them the poise and confidence essential for success in their activities of the future.

Imprint

Editor-in-Chief: Donald Pearse
Advisors: Miss Stahl, Mr. Battles

There is more time and energy spent to produce a four-page bimonthly publication, such as the IMPRINT, than the casual reader might suspect. Every other Wednesday and Thursday, four or five staff members and Miss Stahl remain in school until very late preparing the paper for publication. Principal duties of the literary staff include reporting, writing, proof reading, composing headlines, and arranging pages. The art staff provides at least four cuts for each issue, while the typists set all copy in its final form. Mr. Battles and his business staff handle the circulation, finances, and advertising for the paper.

Every department has its own deadline and its own job. Editor-in Chief, Don Pearse, keeps in touch with all the associate editors to make sure their schedules are correct. Editors Joan Way, Anne Jeffery, Shirley Smith, Elaine Maclachlan, Roy Shorey, Carol Brison, Natalie Wadland, Rosemary Feck, and managers Calvin Dow, Geneveive Waitt, Carol Wortman, have received the fine cooperation from the staff necessary for an improved paper.

Circulation is expected to increase more next year, because many graduating seniors have bought subcriptions to be sent to them.

In January the IMPRINT introduced a novelty in the form of a Sadie Hawkins Dance. The dance proved to be a tremendous success, and the committee was rewarded by nearly a hundred dollars net profit.

Masque and Wig Society

President: Constance Taylor
Vice-President: Barbara Restall
Secretary: Sally Likins
Treasurer: Anne Jeffery
Advisor: Miss Irene M. Patten

Led by Miss Patten, over forty juniors and seniors took part in the dramatic activities of the Masque and Wig Society. Barbara Restall, as Vice-President and Program Chairman, held several fine programs, but the year's stress was put on the production of "Jane Eyre."

Mr. Herbert L. Jackson again coached the play, which was received with great enthusiasm. In the title role was Barbara Restall; Bernard Carpenter played the part of Rochester. The supporting cast included Beverly Daly, Betsy Griffeth, Anne Jeffery, Thomas Kelley, Charles Lake, and Elaine Maclachlan. All acted so beautifully that they added new humor and pathos to the story, which was quite familiar to the audience.

Behind the footlights, James Hansen, Malcolm Edwards, William Eisnor, Donald Goershel, Howard Johnson, Gerald Healey, Mary Hopkins, Joan Lampasona, Beverly Putnam, and Sally Wilcox were especially helpful in carrying out the details on which the success of the play was dependent. Beverly Putnam in particular deserves much credit for managing so capably the obtaining and selling of the candy.

Everyone cooperated in making "Jane Eyre" successful, and their work was amply rewarded on the night of the performance, December 16, 1949.

Junior Red Cross Club

President: Dolores Dooling
Vice-President: Marjorie Clapp
Secetary: Barbara Restall
Treasurer: Shirley Monegan
Faculty Advisor: Miss Flora Lutz

The Junior Red Cross Club, an active organization comprised of diligent workers, held its meetings this year in Room 311. Miss Lutz was the faculty advisor.

Each homeroom elected a representative and an alternate representative to attend the meetings of the club. At these meetings, many excellent projects were proposed and completed. The members sent "beano" boards, which they had made, to veterans' hospitals. At Christmas time ten dozen cookies were sent to Murphy General Hospital. The club sponsored their annual American Junior Red Cross Fund Drive, which was most successful.

The busy workers gave generously of their time, completing an afghan and an "overseas album." The album contains interesting information and pictures of the numerous clubs and activities at Melrose High School and will be sent to a school in some foreign country.

Fully appreciated are the noteworthy achievements of the Junior Red Cross Club.

Boys' Rifle Club

President: John Herrick
Vice-President: Anthony Maccario
Secretary: Richard Cutler
Treasurer: Paul Toner
Faculty Advisor: Mr. Mansur

"The Rifle Team did very well at the last match. They won their competition with very high scoring." The preceding information borrowed from the school newspaper seems to give a clear picture of the success of the Boys' Rifle Club. The club's twenty-five members have repeatedly made excellent showings at their various competitions. Under the capable direction of Mr. Mansur, membership has always been a most profitable and enjoyable experience.

Dues for the year paid for the ammunition used during the shooting. Various matches with other schools included Malden, Wakefield, and Winchester. From November until February, Postal matches took place. The scores from these are sent to Washington for competition with Rifle Clubs from the entire country. Melrose received better than average rating on many of these.

Richard Cutler, John Herrick, William Kennedy, Anthony Maccario, John Ramsay, John Ruggles, and Paul Toner were among the regular members of the team which shot against other schools. Regular hours for practice at the Coolidge Range were 4:30 P. M. Monday, and 8:00 A. M. Saturday. As a tribute to the vigilance of both director and members, there were no accidents occurring from the use of firearms.

Girls' Rifle Club

President: Ruth Webb
Vice-President: Peggy Travalini
Secretary: Carole Nordstrom
Treasurer: Winona Nelson
Faculty Advisor: Mr. Mansur

The use of fire arms taught as a science would seem to some a most interesting but dangerous pastime. However, these skeptics would have another attitude were they told that in the entire history of the Melrose High School Girls' Rifle Club there has not been one accident caused by firearms. The able sponsor, Mr. Mansur, deserves much credit for having emphasized safety measures to such a great degree of success.

At the beginning of the year, which is divided into two parts, there were forty-seven eager members, but because of the high standard of the club, during the second half, there were only twenty-three expert shots. The girls shot every week at one of the following times: Saturday morning or Thursday afternoon, at the Coolidge School Rifle Range. The dues, which defray the cost of ammunition, are two dollars per year.

The girls were formed into teams of ten each, and shot in competition with one another. The scores of the top five girls were sent to Washington to be compared in a Postal match with other scores of Girls' Rifle Clubs all over the country.

Several matches with other schools were also held, including Malden and Winchester. High scorers were Barbara Brown, Jane Schueler, Mary Vetree, and Irene Wagner.

Band

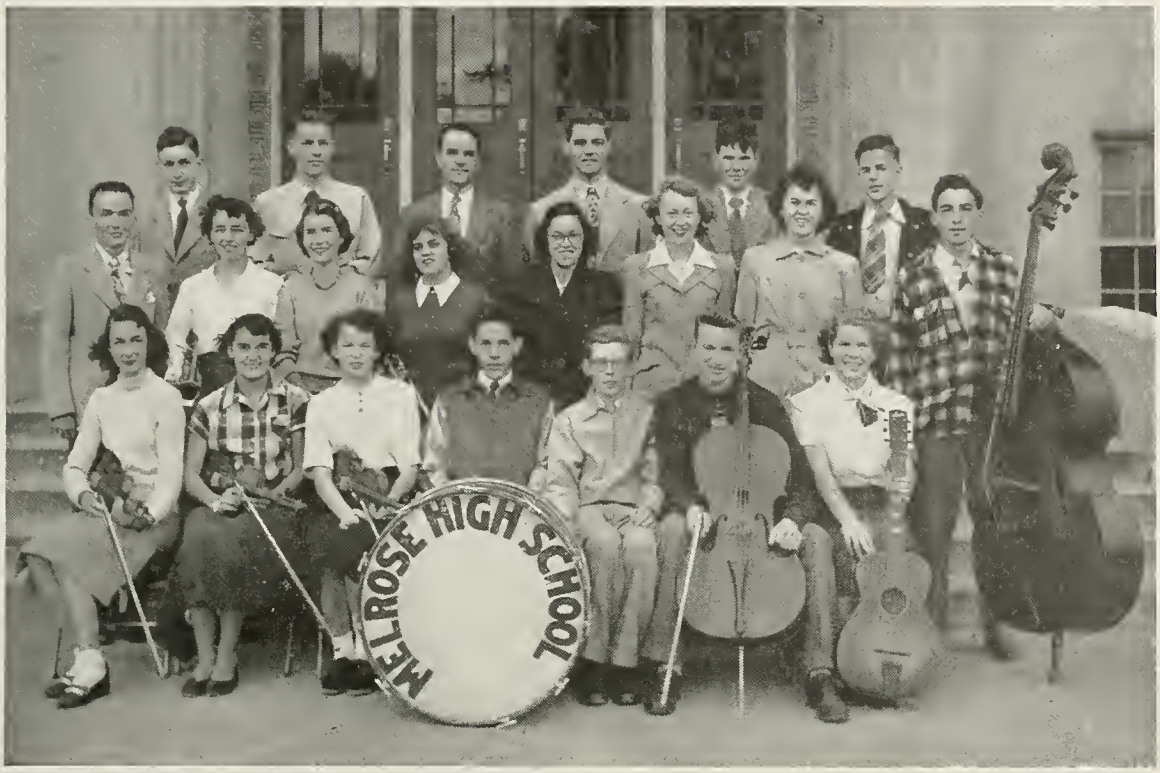
President: John Titus
Secretary-Treasurer: Nancy Keith
Librarians: John Brown, Donald Wheeler
Director: Mr. Withington

This year's Melrose High School Band, under the able leadership of Mr. Withington, has concluded a successful year, taking part in many school sports and activities.

The band, lead by drum major Donald Pearse, played at all the football games, helping to cheer the team and keeping the crowd full of pep. Also, at the Cambridge Latin hockey game, the stirring music helped spur our team on to victory.

On April 26, this organization held a concert for the P. T. A. To celebrate the gala 100th Anniversary of Melrose, the band presented an outdoor concert on May 3. Since the Massachusetts State Music Festival was held in Melrose this year, great opportunity was provided for our music groups. The M. H. S. Band marched in the parade and took part in the mass band program. As usual the group marched in both the Armistice Day and Memorial Day parades. Music Night added more prestige to the record, when they offered such delightful numbers as the Lustspiel Overture, the Mexican Overture, and Knightsbridge March.

The band contributes an important part to the spirit of the school, and its fine showing was appreciated by both the faculty and students.



Orchestra

Conductor: Mr. Wendell Withington

The Orchestra, although small in number, put untiring efforts into their work throughout the year, taking part in various school functions. Weekly rehearsals in S block were directed by their leader, Mr. Withington.

This group of musicians accompanied the operetta with great success, working many weeks to perfect their support of the cast. Despite a sparsity of performers in the string section, every number offered by the group revealed great ability. The Orchestra competed in the Massachusetts State Music Festival and also performed on Music Night, an occasion when the music groups of the school present their talent.

The Orchestra has worked diligently this year under excellent direction and leadership, and it is to be commended for its many achievements.

The entire school is greatful to Mr. Withington, whose able direction has given us such a splendid orchestra; his inspiring efforts are certain to bring increasing success in future years.

Aremac Club

Planning Board: Roberta Culver, Albert Margeson, Edward Melanson

Faculty Advisor: Miss Heald

In November 1949, the first meeting of the Aremac Club wa called to order in Room 312. For all prospective members the following points were explained: "Aremac" is the word camera spelled backward, and the club's purpose is to further interests in photography.

The meetings take place once a month on Wednesdays at 2:30 P. M. During the year, different members took photographs of interesting scenes or beautiful landscapes. At each gathering of the group , these pictures were mounted on large white cardboard, shown to the others, and judged by the votes of the entire club.

At various times, these enthusiastic "shutter-bugs" made field trips in the interest of photography. They took pictures of the winter scenery in the Lynn Fells area and made an all-day Saturday trip to the North Shore, with its picturesque harbors and boats.

. The Boston Camera Club holds an annual exhibition entitled "The International Salon of Photography." The members of the M. H. S. club were priviledged to attend on Wednesday, March 22. They gained many ideas which aided them in their discussions of samples, techniques and general photographic interests.

Cheerleaders

Captain: Ruth Webb
Faculty Advisor: Mr. McPheters

Mr. McPheters' fifteen peppy cheerleaders of 1950 faithfully encouraged the Red Raiders at every football game. Although no games were won, the girls never lost their cheery smiles, but kept the bleacher crowd spirited. Many new cheers were introduced and successfully mastered by the student body.

Several of the girls performed at almost every basketball game. The lusty yells of the Melrose High School cheering squad could also be heard at the Arena and Garden when the pucksters won the New England Hockey Championship.

Ninety junior and sophomore girls competed this spring for twelve vacancies. The present cheerleaders held practice classes twice a week to instruct these hopeful recruits.

Those on the Cheerleader squad include: Captain Ruth Webb, Carol Brison, Anne Drummey, Jessie Evans, Patricia Jack, Nancy Johnson, Joyce Luckett, Elaine Maclachlan, Carole Nordstrom, Estelle Rizzo, Nancy Snell, Connie Taylor, Jean Tibbetts, Marilyn Turner, and Barbara Whitney.

Hi-Y Club

President: Robert Reddish

Vice President: Leon Hunewill

Secretary: Richard Divver

Treasurer: Roy Shorey

Corresponding Secretary: Thomas Johnson

The Hi-Y Club is open to any sophomore, junior, or senior boy at M. H. S. This year the club's meetings were held every Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. building with Mr. Roger Sonneman as the advisor.

Included on the yearly program were movies, talks by local ministers and speakers, and vocational discussions. They also heard such prominent sports personalities as Bud Niles and Ted Vogel.

As has been the custom for several years, at Thanksgiving time Hi-Y and Girls' Club combined their efforts to supply needy families of the city with food baskets. This help at the holiday season was greatly appreciated, leaving a feeling of warm friendship with both participating parties.

Girls' Club

President: Anne Drummey
Vice-President: Ruth Webb
Recording Secretary: Margaret Travalini
Corresponding Secretary: Barbara Whitney
Treasurer: Helen Ray
Advisor: Mr. George A. McPheters

Girls' Club, the most active club in the high school, celebrated its silver anniversary this year. On March 23, 1950, a banquet was held in the school gym. Over 560 past and current members were there to enjoy the food and the program which had Reverend Wallace Forgey as the speaker. Both guests and members paid tribute to Mac, founder and advisor of the organization; Mac had a wonderful evening.

Elaine Maclachlan as Program Chairman, aided by her committee of Louise Clark, Rosalie Fairman, Betsy Griffeth, Nancy Johnson, and Shirley Smith, presented over thirty fine nights of entertainment. Program sheets were printed and distributed to each member. Outstanding on the list were Reverend Clarence Fuller, Mrs. Givens, Jane Harrigan, May Milliken, and Alma Todd and Dick Delery, square dance leaders. The Amateur and Parents' Nights were very well received, but perhaps the best meeting of the year was the Fashion Show which featured twenty-five years of styles.

By sending Thanksgiving food to needy families and contributing to several drives, the girls became "of greater service to their homes, their schools, and their community."

Art Club

President: Natalie Wadland
Vice-President: Edward Gradijan
Secretary: Carol Hyndman
Treasurer: Sally Sawtelle
Faculty Advisor: Mrs. Foster

On every other Thursday of the month, at 2:30 p.m. in Room 314, there is the busy hum of activity which means—artists at work! Twenty-five busy heads bend over their handiwork, and it is easy to see that here is a truly talented and appreciative group.

The Art Club is open for all those upperclassmen who enjoy sketching or painting, especially for those who possess artistic talent but have no time in their school curricula for art studies. The club is under the able direction of Mrs. Foster who, needless to say, "fosters" the artistic potentialities of these young Rembrandts.

Working with clay, finger paints, and just plain pencil or pen, the artists produced many "masterpieces." Any project which interests members may be carried out during after school meetings.

At the various gatherings of the group, they did: fingerpainting, sketching in pencil and crayon, and drawing from life. One of the features of the year's program was the modelling of madonnas in clay.

Cartoon Club

Chief Cartconist: Donald Streck
Editor: Neil MacDonald
Faculty Advisor: Mr. McPheters

The Cartoon Club organized this fall for its fifth year under the leadership of Mr. George McPheters. By making its headquarters in room 307, the center for cheerleaders, Girls' Club, and the Washington trip, the club members found many inspirations for their cartoons, also benefitting from Mac's copious supply of witty ideas.

Interest in cartooning was not as great this year as in former years, however. Therefore, the Cartoon Club has been comparatively inactive. It is hoped that the class of 1954 will be more artistically inclined and will help Mac to enlarge the Cartoon Club.

A few meetings were held and some clever cartooning was done. Two issues of the club's magazine, "Chuckles", were produced. This magazine is composed entirely of humorous drawings created by the students.

Current Events Club

President: Rollin Haynes
Vice-President: Donald Young
Secretary: Katherine Gridley
Faculty Advisor: Mrs. Givens

The Current Events Club of 1950 will be remembered for its advisor, Mrs. Lillian Givens, exchange history teacher from Honolulu, Hawaii. Mrs. Givens exchanged places with Miss Kathryn Garden, who taught school in Hawaii this year. This exchange experience is of great value not only to the teachers, but also to their students. The members of the Current Events Club were particularly fortunate to have Mrs. Givens as their advisor.

On Good Government Day, the day when high school students take over the Massachusetts legislature, eight members of Current Events Club and their advisor visited the State House. They watched the members propose bills and took notes on the proceeding in order to make a report to their history classes.

Throughout the year the Club has held meetings every other S period. During the meetings, they enjoyed movie strips about current affairs, and discussed or debated various problems of the United States and other countries.

Glee Club

President: Calvin Dow
Secretary-Treasurer: John Reid
Librarians: Anne Jeffery, Jean Tibbetts

In 1950, a red letter year for many organizations, the Melrose High School Glee Club was one of the most active groups of all.. Under the able and inspirational direction of Mr. Withington, the Glee Club presented several outstanding programs.

The first performance, one of the most popular of the year, was on December 18. This concert, the Christmas Vesper Service, has in the past three years become a tradition. The singing of the "Night Before Christmas," and solos by Judy Potter, Ann Scofield, and Jeannette Tousley, completed a delightful entertainment. This program was repeated for the Rotary Club on the following Friday.

The stellar attraction of the year was the operetta, "Robinhood." Starring Calvin Dow, Carole Nordstrom, Judy Potter, Jeannette Tousley and Skippy Westhaver, and a supporting chorus of forty voices, this year's M. H. S. extravaganza was the usual success. The auditorium was filled for both performances—March 17, 18, 1950.

Music night, May 6, and the Eastern Massachusetts Music Festival to which Melrose was host, were both performances of which the school is most proud. To top off a wonderful year, the Glee Club was invited to be guest artists at the Lynn English Chorus' music program, an invitation which was delightedly received by the up-and-coming songsters of the school.

French Club

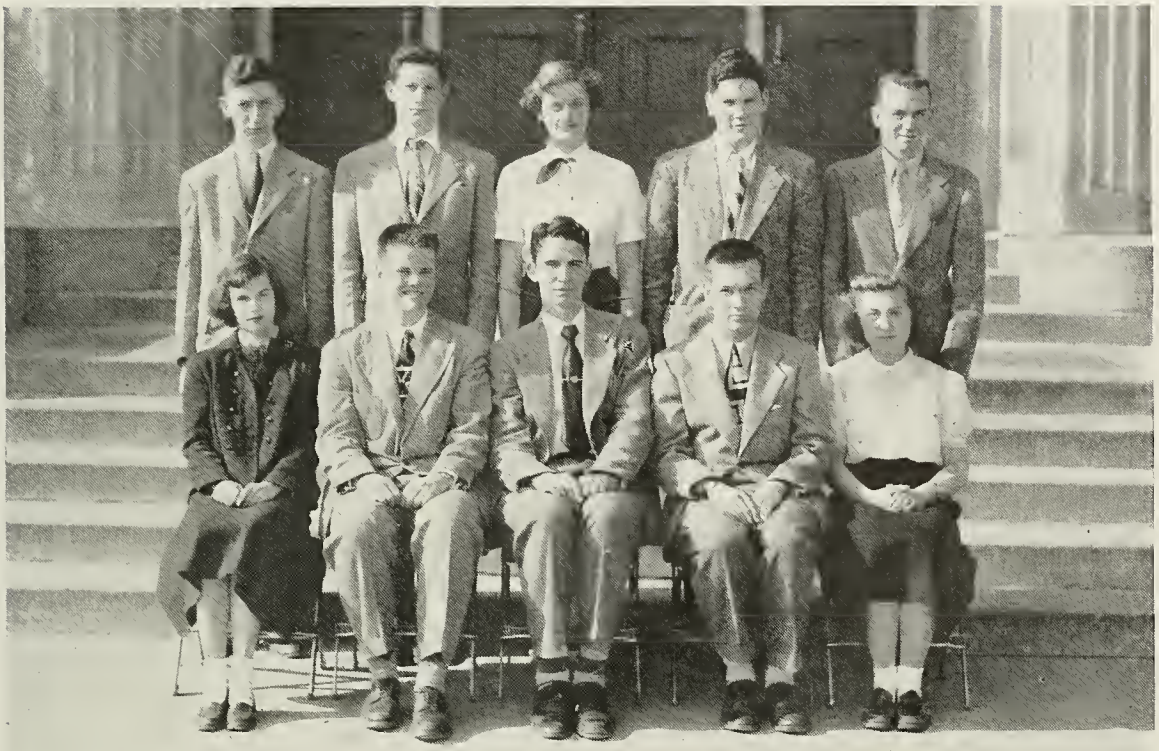
President: Ann Russell
Vice-President: Charles Lake
Faculty Advisor: Miss Yvonne Miche

The French Club is a unique combination of education and entertainment. To join the club, one must have had at least one year of French with an "A" or "B" average. At each meeting, the fourteen members sing "La Marseille", the national anthem of our French neighbors. A different secretary is appointed for each meeting. She takes the notes and transcribes them into French to be read at the next meeting. French is the only language spoken.

The members of the club rely upon themselves for the majority of the programs. They have presented short skits and fortune telling sessions, have written gossip columns of M. H. S., have told jokes in French, have played a French version of "Information Please", and have learned songs, such as "La Vie en Rose." At Christmas, they had a party at which gifts were exchanged which had French limericks in the place of cards.

Several times this year, the club has listened to French music. Edith Piaff, Tino Rossi, Jean Sablon, and Charles Trenet have entertained via the medium of records.

An active though small organization, the French Club has stimulated and intensified the love of its members for a beautiful language.



German Club

President: Bernard Carpenter
Secretary-Treasurer: Fred Wallace
Advisor: Miss E. Brown

Composed of fifteen members, underclassmen with the exception of Jack Gradijan, Charles Lake, Frank Lottridge, and Loring Lucas, the German Club is ably advised by Miss E. Brown. In order to join, a student must have completed one-half year of the subject with a "B" rating. Meetings are held on alternate Mondays in the S period or after school. They are conducted in German as much as possible and refreshments are usually served.

The purpose of the club, to supplement the study of German in accordance to individual preferences, is carried out in clever ways. The members learn and sing together both humorous and lovely German songs; they make recordings of their conversational German, play and criticize the recordings. Records of German vocalists and speech authorities are also enjoyed.

Club members also correspond with German students, an interesting exchange which creates bonds of friendship and deepens understanding of the language and the people. A special pleasure was a German movie sent to the club by a German boy. Although one of the smaller of the M. H. S. clubs, members have found it a helpful and satisfying addition to their curricular studies.

Modern Dance Club

President: Carole Nordstrom
Vice-President: Joyce Luckett
Secretary-Treasurer: Greta Klinteberg
Freshman Representative: Eleanor Shorey
Pianist: Sabra Friend
Faculty Advisor: Mrs. Norma J. Hopkins

Modern Dance was started in M. H. S. two years ago. Last year the Modern Dance Club was organized and recognized by the Student Council as an official club of the school. It now has twenty-eight members.

Each October the club has tryouts for all interested girls. They are judged on their body movements, rhythm, and creative ability. Modern dance is a creative art expressing the dancers' moods through body movement.

The members supply their own leotards and skirts and pay fifty cents dues annually. The club meets every Tuesday afternoon for one hour. During that hour body techniques and original dance compositions are practiced.

This year they have become a popular attraction: they have danced at the high school Thanksgiving assembly, at the Parent-Teachers Association Mothers' Tea, and at the Eastern Massachusetts Student Council Convention.

Operators' Club

President: Robert Russo
Vice-President: Robert Nichols
Secretary-Treasurer: Donald Streck
Faculty Advisor: Mr. Laine

In various classes this year, the students were pleased to have the regular routine of lectures, discussions, and weekly tests interrupted occasionally by the addition of a progressive form of education. Several times during each semester, hard-working members of this newly established Operators' Club ran movies, either in the respective classrooms or in 413. These films, part of the new visual education policy of the school, usually pertain to the current class discussion topic, to the particular material being studied at the time, or general background of the subject.

The thirty boys also have charge of handling all the audio-visual equipment in the school. They clean, repair, and store these machines, and learn all the intricaties of motion picture machinery. The students show from twenty to twenty-five films per month. They also make tape recordings of every assembly at M. H. S. The vocational conferences were also "covered" by this active group.

Allied Youth

President: Bernard Carpenter
Vice-President: Joyce Miller
Secretary: Helen Ray
Treasurer: Aina Palm
Faculty Advisor: Mr. Walton

Is there any organization which has a more noble purpose than that of Allied Youth? To educate young people to the evils of alcoholism is certainly a worth-while cause.

Allied Youth, consisting of approximately 100 members, meets the first and third Friday of every month during S period in Room 413. Chairmen of the various committees are: Ted Perrotti, Marjorie Scott, Rosalie Fairman, Stanley Foster, and Constance Taylor. The programs are half educational and half social. Many prominent lawyers, doctors, and judges have lectured about alcoholism and its malignant effects.

During the year, the active club sold Christmas cards and book covers in order to increase its treasury. The membership charge is fifty cents, but the club receives no profits from this. Each member receives the "Allied Youth" magazine. A free dance, a novel idea in the school, was put on December 9, 1949, in honor of the school athletes. A spring social was also held. President Carpenter went to Pennsylvania to attend the nation-wide Allied Youth conference. It was truly a profitable year for not only the club, but also for the entire school.

Hail the Champs!

Yes, 1950 was a banner year for the hockey squad as they brought three championships to M. H. S. This story of success really starts about six years ago, when Doc Marsolais started a group of boys playing hockey. The boys improved with age and, as a result, the 1950 Red Raiders became Greater Boston Interscholastic League champs, Metropolitan Tourney champs, and New England Schoolboy champs.

Coach Henry Hughes just missed a championship last year but more than made up for it this season. Dick Baker was sensational in the nets, while John Titus, Seaver Peters, and Bob Marsolais combined masterfully to give M. H. S. the most publicized line in this section. Herk Kennific and Tony Cicoria were outstanding defensemen, and Bob Cox was the mainstay of the second line. George Conn and Bob Reddish proved to be capable reserves.

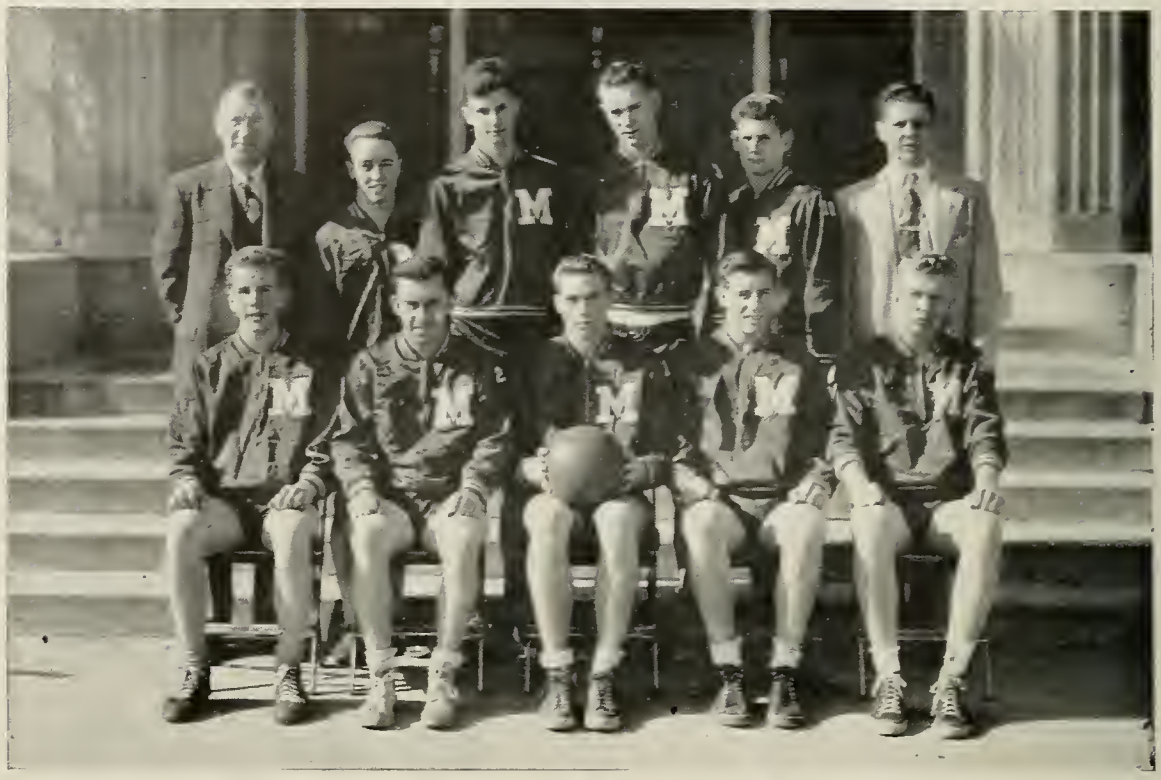
The long season came to a climax at Providence, where the New England Championships were held. The Raiders breezed through the preliminary and semi-final rounds, and faced Burriville, Rhode Island in the finals. After this spectacular victory, Bob Marsolais, John Titus, Herk Kennific, and Tony Cicoria were chosen on the All New England team.

For this great year the team was rewarded with a four day trip to New York, a fitting tribute for such a team.



Boys' Basketball

Captain: Dick Jones
Manager: Roy Shorey
Coach: Leonard Clark

Under Doc Clark's capable coaching, Captain Dick Jones and company finished the basketball season with a record of six wins and eleven losses. Statistics do not tell the complete story, however, as many of the losses could be charged to bad breaks.

The high point of the season was a 38-37 victory over powerful Winchester. The "wealthy-towners" were making a bid for the Middlesex League Championship and were leading the Red Raiders by ten points at half time. The final half produced some terrific basketball as ly, and Dick Jones and Calvin Collins starred in the scoring.

Dick Jones won second place in the league scoring race and was impressive during the entire season, as were his cohorts, Miller, Galvin, and Collins. They made a great combination in a great basketball team.

Girls' Basketball

Captain: Helen Ray
Coach: Mrs. June Lynn
Manager: Priscilla Thomas

The girls basketball team was ably coached by Mrs. June Lynn and managed by Priscilla Thomas and Barbara Merrifield. Only the girls who participated in the inter-class games were eligible for varsity tryouts. After practices and the try-outs thirteen forwards and sixteen guards were selected for the varsity team.

Two co-captains for the first and second teams were chosen at every game. The first team won only one game and lost six while an excellent second string won five games, losing only two of its games to Lexington and Concord. High scorers for the first squad were Helen Ray and Naomi Mahler. Ruth Jeffery Carol Worman and Peggy Travalini most often filled the hoop for the second team.

A new ruling for girls basketball was used in the second half of each game the unlimited dribble. The limited dribble was enforced during the first half of every game. The guards, including Ruth Webb Carol Brison Elaine Mackachlan Jean Tibbetts and Dolores Dooling used zone defense very effectively.

Football

Captain: Bob Leslie
Manager: Jim Day
Coach: Dave Galvin

The Melrose High School football squad had a very tough year, and despite hard, aggressive play, they failed to win a contest. Coach Galvin decided to build for the future by playing his underclassmen whenever possible. The inexperience of the younger members of the squad played a part in the poor showing, but the youngsters displayed plenty of spirit and energy.

Captain Bob Leslie, Ted Perrotti, and Phil Batstone were the mainstays of the forward wall, while Fred Tarr was standout in the defensive backfield. Mac Edwards and Ed Duff were reliable reserves, seeing plenty of action.

As usual, the Class A opponents were strong. Powerful Newton was held to thirteen points by a spirited Raider outfit. The heartbreaker of the year came at Wakefield, where the Raiders outplayed their opponents but were unable to score.

Despite the poor year, the experience gained by the underclassmen will help Melrose return to the top of football circles.

Field Hockey

Captain: Bib Feck
Manager: Nancy Gray
Coach: Mrs. June Kynn

A good hockey team, despite the absence of Lady Luck, represented M. H. S. this year. The enthusiastic group was coached by Mrs. Kynn and two practice teachers from Sargent School, Miss Farley and Miss Gochis. Nancy Gray and Virginia Stacey were the team's managers.

Outstanding on the forward line was Bib Feck, who captained the first team. Although the team won only one game, with its spirit and brilliant stick-handling, its losses were by slight margins.

A strong second string, with multi-goal minded Marilyn King as captain, won two out of seven games.

Both teams were fortunate to attend Play-day, sponsored by the Boston Field Hockey Association and held at Concord on October 22. They played four games of twelve minutes each, every girl playing a part of every game. The Melrose team did excellently; winning two games, tieing one, and losing one. The results were: Melrose 1 — Canton 0, Melrose 1 —Lincoln 0, Melrose 0 — Shore Country Day 0, Melrose 1 — Abbott Academy 2.

Baseball

Coach: Dave Gavin
Manager: Grant Gray

The 1950 version of Coach Gavin's diamond men has yet to take the field against a Middlesex League opponent as we go to press, but prospects for a better than average club are very good.

The pitching staff has been bolstered by several hurlers from the Junior Varsity farm unit, and Andy Maccario, veteran receiver, is slated to handle the catching duties. Bob Leslie is holding down the hot corner position, while Harry Berejikian will be the shortstop. Roy Shorey at first base, Bob Cox in the outfield, Ronald Lyle on the mound, and James Jack, are the other graduating members of the squad.

This is Melrose's sixth season in the Middlesex League, and chances for a championship seem to hinge on the pitching staff.

The Junior Varsity system is starting to show results as three of this year's varsity hurlers are graduates of it, while five starters in the infield and outfield have also been J. V. members.

Girls' Softball

Captains: Marilyn King, Bib Feck
Manager: Louise Clark
Coach: Mrs. June Kynn

An enthusiastic and tireless girls' softball team offered formidable competition to neighboring rivals this spring. The schedule included games with Belmont, Malden, Winchester, Beverley, Lexington, Arlington, and Concord.

Veteran infielders, Betty Cuthbertson, Dolores Dooling, Bib Feck, and Pat McLeod, and veteran outfielder Nancy Moulton combined with several new stars to make a strong team. All girls exhibited good ball handling and batting during the season, and boasted of a pitching ace in Marilyn King.

The squad included only five seniors: Dolores Dooling, Bib Feck, Sylvia Chesley, Jean Tibbetts, and Jeannette Tousley. These girls were pleased to have the experience of a season under the able guidance of the new coach, Mrs. Kynn.

Track

Captains: Bill Copson, Dick Rose
Manager: Bob Kennedy
Coach: Foster Flint

Student interest in the M. H. S. track program reached a new high in 1950, when over fifty candidates reported to Coach Flint.

Graduating members of the team include co-captains Bill Copson and Dick Rose. Copson was the squad outstanding 880 yard runner, while Rose specialized in the 440. Ralph Boyd and Ralph Murray were two of the best milers. A powerful shotput man was John McAvinn.

It was a great year for Coach Flint, for he also had an abundance of talent among the underclassmen. This year the team had seven regular meets scheduled, and Melrose was entered in the Belmont Relays and the State Meet.

Cross Country

Captain: Bill Copson

Manager: Albert Margeson

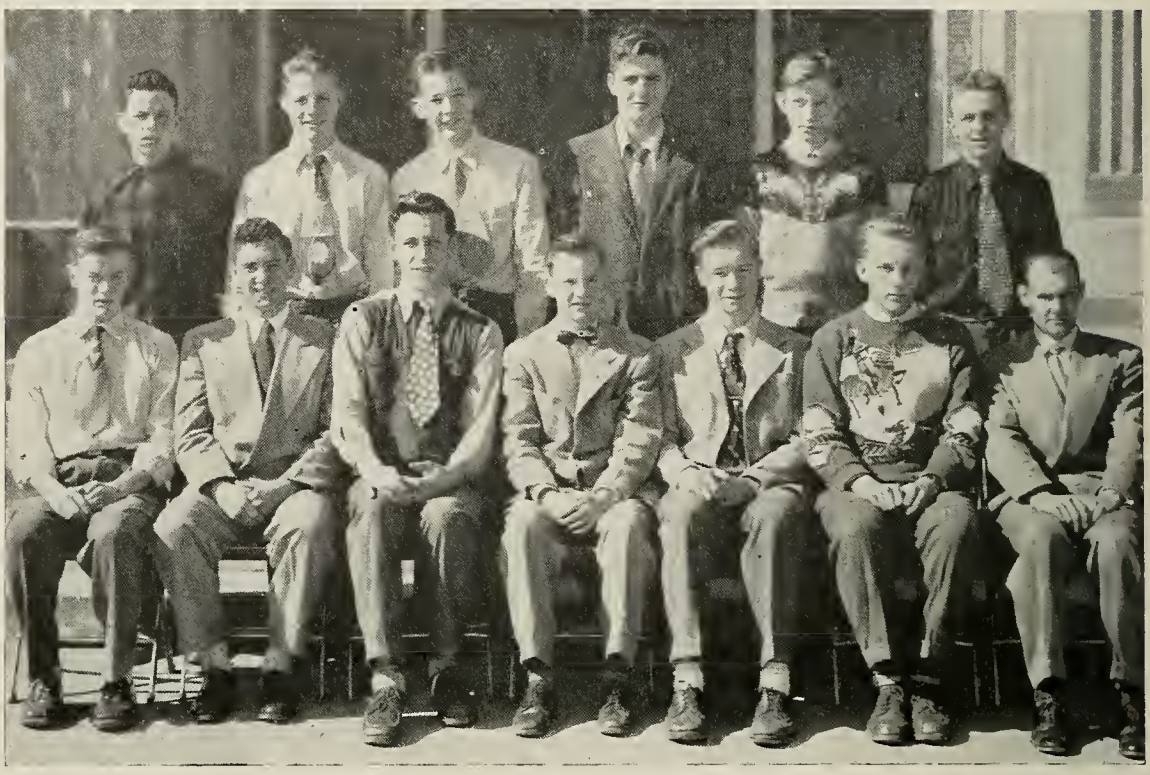
Coach: Leonard Clark

Sparked by a host of seniors including Ralph Boyd, Stanley Freeman, Ralph Murray, Frank Lottridge, Bill Copson, and George Conn, the Melrose High School Cross Country team broke even in league competition, winning four and losing four.

Doc Clark's Harriers were plagued with injuries at the opening of the season, but after a slow start, the distance men began to pick up victories.

Four seemed to be the team's number, because Melrose finished fourth in both tthe Middlesex League and State meets. Ralph Boyd and Ralph Murray were the two most consistent finishers and brought further honor to M. H. S. by making fine showings in various long-distance road races.

The Harriers spent many hours of practice on the pavements; both the team and Coach Clark deserve a good deal of credit for their accomplishments.



Boys' Tennis

Coach: Mr. Hildreth

This year the Tennis team acquired a new coach, the popular history instructor, Mr. Hildreth. Mr. Hildreth had a wealth of talent from which to choose a squad, and the standard set by former M. H. S. teams were safely maintained.

Senior representatives include Howard Johnson, Calvin Dow, Douglas Harrison, Bill Eisnor, and Dave Randall. Howard Johnson is rated as number one man, while Calvin Dow and Bill Eisnor mean plenty of trouble for the opposition.

For the past three years Melrose has finished second to Belmont in Suburban League matches. We go to press too early to report results of this year's contests. The opponents include Newton, Arlington, Winthrop, Belmont, Malden, and Cambridge Latin. Mr. Hildreth and his hard-working squad are certain to make an outstanding record.

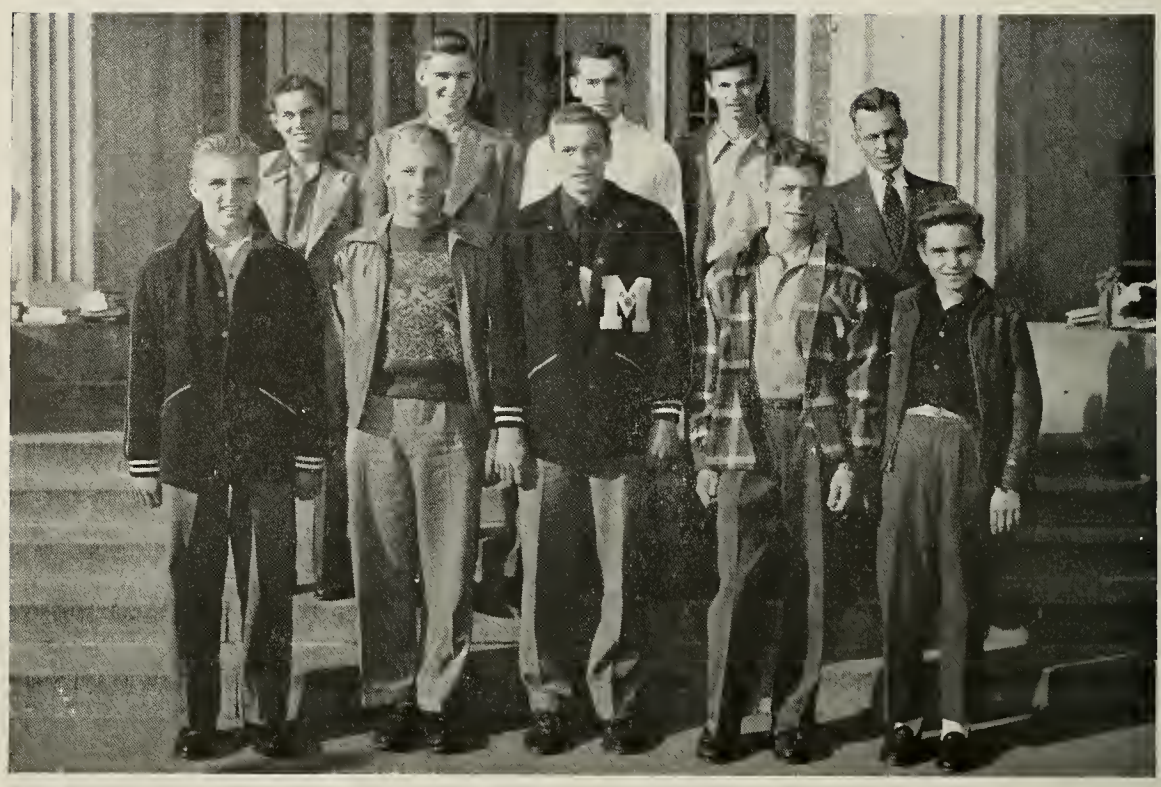
Girls' Tennis

Coach: Mrs. June Kynn
Manager: Janet Deinstadt

The Girls' Tennis team has two seasons in which to perfect this form of athletic ability. The fall season serves as an excellent proving period in preparation for the wider activities of spring. Last fall the team played a singles tournament. Ruth Jeffery emerged victor, defeating Carol Wortman in the finals.

The spring squad played a doubles tournament in addition to playing varsity games with other high school squads. The Melrose girls played matches with Belmont, Malden, Winchester, Beverley, Lexington, Arlington, and Concord.

With many wins to its credit, the spring squad completed a successful season. There were seven seniors on the team: Carol Brison, Helen Ray, Carol Wortman, Patricia Powers, Priscilla Powers, Peggy Travalini, and Anne Jeffery.



Golf

Captain: Dick Jones
Coach: Blair Wilson

Coach Wilson and his Golf squad are looking to the 1950 season for a State Championship. Last year the team narrowly missed the vaunted title, and this year they intend to try to go all the way to the top.

Captain Dick Jones is the number one man on the squad. He is well known in local golfing circles and should be the main punch in the team's attack. Dick Cutler and Frank Lottridge are senior members who should more than hold their own against all opposition.

Melrose is a member of the Middlesex League, which is divided into three divisions. The local division includes Reading, Wakefield, and Winchester. The division champs hold playoffs to decide the league title, and the winner of that is entered in the state tournament.

Marshal's Address

by Calvin Collins

Parents, Teachers, and Friends:

We are happy and proud to welcome you, and we sincerely hope you will enjoy our Class Day as much as we enjoy having you here.

As the world stands at the half-way mark in the Twentieth Century, we of the Class of 1950 stand on the threshold of a new era. It is easy for us to look backward over the road we have taken; but our gaze into the future is some-what obscured by the pessimism of the so-called leaders of public opinion. To happy people, pessimism is a discomfort—and we are happy. We are eager to use the excellent training and knowledge we have gained here. Will it be for the benefit of mankind? Only the future can tell, and with God's guidance the fog of pessimism along the road, which is tomorrow, shall be dispelled by our achievements in the days to come.

Let us dispense with too serious a tone on this, our Class Day. Don with us the cloak of memory and fancy, and listen to the story of the past and the future of the Class of 1950.

History of the Class of 1950

As the year 1950 marks the midpoint of the Twentieth Century, writers and historians all over the world are reflecting upon the achievements of half a century. So now we of the class of 1950, as the swiftly passing events of senior week carry us forward to graduation, wish to delay for a moment to take a final glimpse at our four years at Melrose High School.

The class of 1950! Dosen't that sound a little more renowned than the class of '46 or '48? Graduating in the middle of a century makes us different from other classes and in more than just name. For four years we have proved that we have a very definite personality which distinguishes us from previous classes who have, in their respective years, been seated upon this stage, facing the many pairs of proud and wondering eyes fixed upon them. As a group we have excelled where other classes have failed and fallen down where others have triumphed. In the last analysis, however, we seem to have contributed something vital to every phase of Melrose High School life.

As freshmen we behaved like most M. H. S. beginners. We were completely awed by those all powerful seniors. We were naive and gullible even to the point of believing those terrible upperclassmen who sent us to search in vain for the mythical elevator. More than a few unfortunates graced the session hall with their presence for failure to keep their locker doors shut. (I would still like to know how to keep a locker door shut with half the properties for a Cloak and Plume production crammed inside.) Speaking of Cloak and Plume, many of our classmates with theatrical aspirations joined this club, a purely freshman organization, and quickly scored successes with, "The Florist Shop," "Georgie Porgie," and "Winter Dust." The first members of the class of '50 to gain recognition were Elaine Maclachlan and Calvin Collins who were elected to represent us at Student Council meetings. Thus our freshmen year with all its newness came to a close, and in the fall we trooped back to school as sophomores, beginning to grow in power as well as in our own estimation.

To start off the year we engaged in a hot political campaign from which President, Bob Leslie; Vice-President, James Hansen; Secretary, Ruth Webb; and Treasurer, Helen Ray emerged victorious. Calvin and Elaine began their second year of student leadership by being re-elected to the Student Council.

Players from our class began to appear in all the athletic contests. Bob Leslie and Renzo Lucci joined the Red Raiders on the football field, while Harry Berejikian, Calvin Collins, James Crawford, Paul Galvin, James Jack, Dick Jones, and Ken Miller began their careers as M. H. S. basketball stars. Harry Berejikian, our outstanding diamond performer, made the baseball squad. Soon some members of our class had joined almost every organization in the school. Five of our girls made the cheerleader squad. Despite all our activities, we did manage to devote some time to the more serious side of school life; namely, studying.

Our junior year saw four new officers taking over the leadership of our class. They were President, Renzo Lucci; Vice-President, Richard Jones; Secretary, Elaine Maclachlan; and Treasurer, Anne Drummey. Helen Ray joined Calvin in Student Council gatherings.

Although the football team fought hard, their record was not impressive. School spirit remained on top, however, and everyone rejoiced at our victory over our traditional rival, Wakefield, on Halloween.

A new girl's athletic association was inaugurated, and under the new system many girls participated in intra-mural games. The best in each sport were selected for the varsity squads. Field hockey, basketball, softball, and tennis were all very popular with the girls of '50.

Interest in hockey at M. H. S. revived as the bladesters enjoyed a successful season. They provided many a thrilling Saturday afternoon as they finished in second place. Showing promise of greater things to come where Dick Baker, Seaver Peters, and John Titus. The basketball team also finished in second place with Jimmie Crawford carrying off the honor of being the leading scorer in the league. On the baseball diamond, pitcher, Bobby Cox, and catcher, Andy Maccario, displayed their ability.

Our actors and actresses graduated into Masque and Wig and produced "The Admirable Crichton" with Anne Drummey, Nancy Grant, Anne Jeffery, Charles Lake, Donald Pearse, and Connie Taylor turning in outstanding performances. Russell Jenks, Carole Nordstrom, and Judy Potter captivated their audiences as they sang leading roles in the Glee Club's performance of "The Gondaliers," acclaimed by many as the finest operetta ever presented at Melrose High.

The highlight of this event-packed year was our Junior Prom, a truly gala event. The Junior Prom Committee enlisted the aid of half the class to help cut out flowers and make favors. To match our springlike decorations we had a warm and beautiful May evening. Everyone at the dance received favors of little lambs, which we made on the assembly line fashion. We are firmly convinced that no class ever put on a better Junior Prom or ever had any more fun doing it than the class of '50.

In the spring seven more of our girls made the cheerleader squad captained by Ruthie Webb.

Three outstanding students were greatly honored when the faculty voted to send Calvin Collins and Roy Shorey to Boys' State and Elaine Maclachlan to Girls' State.

And suddenly we realized that, at last we were seniors. Confident now of our ultimate success, we entered school in the fall with eagerness and joy. The first football game found us on the field full of pep and spirit. We had come to cheer our victorious team — the following Saturday we gathered on the field with renewed enthusiasm. Again we had come to cheer a victory — and so it went to the bitter end on Thanksgiving Day. Let it never be said, however, that the team or the class of '50 ever lost their loyalty or their fighting spirit!

Senior elections were held early in the fall with the results placing Calvin Collins, our outstanding leader since freshmen days, on the top as President. Dick Jones was elected Vice-President; Anne Drummey, Secretary; and Barbara Whitney, Treasurer. In December our Student Council played host to a convention of the Eastern Massachusetts Division of Student Councils. Representatives from all over the state had a very enjoyable time and were greatly impressed by the hospitality of Melrose High School. Roy Shorey and Helen Ray were our delegates to Student Council for the year '49 - '50.

For its annual play Masque and Wig gave an excellent performance of "Jane Eyre." To add to our enjoyment of the Christmas season, the Glee Club gave its traditional and beautiful Vesper Service.

Two members of our class became officers of the Girls' Athletic Association. They were President, Connie Taylor; and Treasurer, Louise Russo. Senior girls starred on all the athletic teams.

The busy members of the IMPRINT Staff kept us up to date on school news under the able guidance of Editor-in-chief, Don Pearse and Editors Carol Brison, Rosemary Feck, Anne Jeffery, Elaine Maclachlan, Roy Shorey, Shirley Smith, and Joan Way.

Our basketball team, captained by ace Dick Jones, had a fair season with a record of five wins and nine losses. But the pride of the class of '50 was our hockey team which won not only the Greater Boston Interscholastic and Metropolitan tournaments but also the New England Hockey crown. Captain John Titus, Dick Baker, Bob Cox, and Pete Peters gave brilliant performances all season, especially in the New Englands at Providence. Who among the class of '50 will ever forget the thrills of those contests, especially when the Raiders clinched the game in the final minutes of play? Or who will forget the trips to Providence in the biggest weekend Melrose High ever had, or that final game with Burrilville when tthe spectacular hockey displayed by our boys proved that they were real champions? School spirit was high all season, but it reached its peak on the weekend when led by the cheerleaders hundreds of fans cheered the team to victory. Four new trophies were added to the showcase in the hall. The class of '50 is justly proud of the part their boys on the team Dick Baker, George Conn, Bob Cox, Seaver Peters, Bob Reddish, Captain John Titus, and manager Ron Lyle played in winning the crown.

On the same weekend the Glee Club gave another fine performance with the operetta, "Robin Hood." Singing leading roles were Calvin Dow, Betsy Griffeth, Carol Nordstrom, Judy Potter, and Jeannette Tousley.

In the early spring the Melrose High School Girls' Club celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary with a huge birthday banquet.

To help celebrate the Melrose Centennial the Eastern Massachusetts Music Festival was held here on May 6. Bands and glee clubs thronged to Melrose for auditions, parades, and concerts.

As rewards for their high academic achievement, Cynthia Bailey, Elaine Maclachlan, and Francis Lottridge were selected as Valedictorian, Salutatorian, and Essayist.

Those seniors who, by virtue of their marks, are members of the Honor Society are: Howard Anderson, Paul Archibald, Cynthia Bailey, Calvin Collins, Patricia Driscoll, Jack Gradijan, Nancy Grant, James Jack, Elizabeth Jeffery, Charles Lake, Francis Lottridge, Elaine Maclachlan, George Melekian, William Neil, Roy Shorey, Shirley Vetree, and Hazel Wentworth.

Thus, at last we have attained our final goal. Graduation is but a few short hours away. We are, more or less, the products of the fifty years which have preceeded us. But more wonderful still, we are the hope of the fifty years yet to come. The twentieth century belongs to us. God grant that we may help to make it a peaceful and a prosperous one, But whatever thread the fates have measured out for us, it is certain that we will never lose the memory of our four wonderful years at Melrose High School.

Class Ode

Jeanne Zemla — Philip Batstone

1. To thee our Alma mater dear,
   Our thoughts will e'er belong
   Your name will guide those waiting here
   When we with praise have gone!

2. You've been our Inspirations theme
   You've more than done your part.
   Thru learning years you've urged us on,
   And given us our start.

   All hail, we now with voices strong,
   Our lantern sure and bright,
   Our eyes are on the road ahead
   Made cleaner by your light.
   To Melrose High we pledge our trust
   And in each heart remain
   The watchword of our future years,
   "Bring honor to your name!"

Statistics of the Class of 1950

In any group there are invariably a few individuals who are outstanding. The Class of 1950 has a few members who uphold this tradition. However, the varied distinctions and titles bestowed upon some of our group may have rather dubious connotations, and any similarity between these titles and members of the Class of 1950 is purely a matter of fact. I should like to request that those whose names I mention please stand for the audience.

Dale Carnegie wrote a very popular book entitled, "How To Win Friends and Influence People." Some of us wonder if he gathered the major portion of his material from our most popular boy and girl, Calvin Collins and Anne Drummey.

Sports are an indispensable part of the American way of life. Clean-living athletes are models of youths who try to emulate the deeds of glory which their idols perform. I am sure that the youth of Melrose can idolize no finer athletes than our most athletic girl and boy, Rosemary Feck and Bob Leslie.

It appears that everyone in the audience seems to have his eyes focused on two people. Can they be gazing at our best looking boy and girl, Fred Potts and Pat Merrill?

Many of our fathers and mothers have chaperoned at the Saturday night Canteen. If so, they have undoubtedly seen Dotty O'-Leary and Joe Sullivan, our best girl and boy dancers, gliding effortlessly across the dance floor.

"Romeo, Romeo, wherefore art thou, Romeo?" "To be or not to be. That is the question." Wh. . . who said that? Why who else but Nancy Grant and Chuck Lane, our scintillating stars of the stage?

If shyness were bliss, Eleanor Johnson and William Neil would be the world's biggest blisters. They are our most bashful girl and boy.

Have any of you noticed a young lady among us poring over books with a halo over her head? If you have, then you know I am speaking of Cynthia Bailey, who has the distinction of being both class saint and most studious.

If a bespectacled but handsome young fellow named Seaver Peters makes an even slightly fantastic statment, take it with a grain of salt. "Pete" is the most successful bluffer in our class. Egad! Is it possible? The statistics have this same Seaver Peters listed as also the least successful bluffer.

Joanne Dudley, would you please stand and give our audience a glimpse of the Class of 1950's most dignified girl?

What greater gift is there than that of perpetual good cheer? As far as Ruth Webb and Andy Maccario are concerned, there is none. And well they might feel that way, for they are the best-natured girl and boy of our class.

Who's creating all the laughter over there? Never mind, I can guess. It's probably Bill Eisnor, the class wit.

Before I go any further, I want to apologize to you of the audience for the incessant giggling you hear. We on the stage are accustomed to it. We know it's Nancy Snell, the class giggler.

We, the Class of 1950, feel we are unique in having the foremost candidate to play the part of red-faced Santa Claus come Christmas. I wish Dick Jones would stand up and blush for us.

"Is my hair in place?" "Do my shoes need shining?" "I think I should polish my fingernails." That sounds to me like Shirley Martyn, our most fastidious schoolmate.

Albert Einstein is growing older. But have no fear, for Elaine Maclachlan's here. How about a curtsy, class genius?

Excuse me. I have just been handed a note. It is a request by the unattached girls of our class to ask Jean Squires if she will please give them a chance and stop flirting with the boys for just a little while.

An original young New Yorker was once struck with the desire to jump from the top of a ten-story building. Well, he certainly made a big hit. We hope Margot Simonds won't go to such extremes to prove her rightful claim to the title of most original.

Roses are red,
Violets are blue.
I can row a boat.
Canoe?

The author of this poem is anonymous, but my guess is that it is Anne Jeffery, the class poet.

My uncle Ralph in Texas was digging an oil well. He had sunk a hole three thousand feet deep in a sand hill, when a windstorm came along and blew all the sand away, leaving him with three thousand feet of hole sticking straight up in the air. But this didn't bother him. He cut the hole up into four-foot lengths and sold them to farmers in Arkansas as ready-made post holes. Come now, Don Pearse. Another story like that and someone might think you were the class exaggerator.

Life is full of hardship. But it seems that all the boys have a common difficulty in operating against the class ladies' man, Howard Johnson.

Report to me at 8:05 every morning for the next five weeks . . . or else! I'll bet that sounds only too familiiar to Ken Hollis, who's least often on time.

What would Barbara Whitney do if Mac Edwards ever said, "Dog is man's best friend"? I am afraid that we would have to name two other people as class pals.

The people in Melrose feel they have the most efficient air-raid alarm system in the world. When Carole Nordstrom is in good voice, no air force in the world dares approach. I hope Carole does not take that statement too seriously, for anyone who has seen either or both of the two most recent high school operettas could have nothing but the highest praise for the fine singing done by Carole, our class songstress.

Many people are intelligent . . . many have perseverance . . . many have fine personalities. Some people have two of these qualities . . . others, all three . . . but extremely few have developed them all to perfection as has Roy Shorey, most likely to succeed.

A florist once said, "Say it with flowers." Natalie Wadland would rather say it with a paint brush. That's why she's our class artist.

If any of you have an aversion to swing music, please don't make any statement to that effect in the presence of the class swing fan, Paul Galvin.

Ladies and gentlemen, I have just been handed a very important bulletin. Be on the lookout for Average Student, who has escaped from the Melrose High School session hall. He is five feet seven inches tall and weighs one hundred thirty-five pounds. He is seventeen years of age. You might find him trying to wager on the outcome of a basketball game, his favorite sport. He has a profound interest in biology which was his favorite subject. In all probability he will have a large wad of slightly used Beech-Nut gum behind his ear. When last seen this student was wearing a blue suit, blue being his favorite color, and he had a rose, his favorite flower, in his lapel. He was wearing a size eight shoe and a brunette toupee. His favorite recreation is dancing, but if you don't find him at a dance hall, search all drug stores as he habitually consumes enormous quantities of Coca-Cola. If you have any information as to the whereabouts of this person, please notify Mr. A. I. Dixon, Submaster, Melrose High School.

Thank you for your kind attention.

Prophecy of the Class of 1950

"Oh, I'm so excited—I'd love to sit down and rest for a few minutes! (Sit down.) Why do I have to be the only Fate in the family who really has something difficult to do? Clotho spins the thread of life and Atropos cuts it off, and I, poor Lacisis, get stuck with measuring it out, and deciding the futures of large groups like this!! Look at them — two hundred sixty-four young people just dying to find out what's going to happen to them. Let's see what we have in store for each of them. (Bring out large book.)

Here, on the first page of future plans, I find that a certain trio— JEANNETTE TOUSLEY, JEAN TIBBETTS, and CAROLE NORDSTROM, will go on to international fame as popular interpretors of a new progressive jazz-bop. On the same program will be RUSSELL JENKS, an outstanding tenor, and that one and only JOHN TITUS, of trumpet fame. Several gentlemen will assist them by producing and acting as stage managers for musical extravaganzas. GERALD HEALEY, THOMAS KELLY, MALCOM EDWARDS, JAMES HANSEN, and WILLIAM DEMPSTER, you'll do very nicely for those positions. Speaking of extravaganzas, here we find NANCY GRANT heading the list of famous stars of the stage. Also in the entertainment world will be ANNE DRUMMEY, popular professional reader and BETSY GRIFFETH, a clever ventriloquist who practically makes her LITTLE TIN CUP talk.

When all these programs are taking place the feminine members of this class will want to look their very best. With the emphasis on style growing with the centuries, even eye-glasses will take on a new importance. Designer BARBARA FULLER will show new, individual type lenses — rose colored glasses which make the whole world seem wonderful. She'll not claim any magic powers for them — BUT . . . her lovely models will be JESSIE EVANS, SHIRLEY SMITH, NANCY BABSON, JOAN WAY, SYLVIA CHESLEY, LAURINE JONES, SUZANNE HOYT, VIRGINIA CHAPLIN and PRISCILLA POWERS. The new extreme styles of the House of Fashion created by LOUISE CLARK and NATALIE WADLAND will be rushed out to customers by speedy messengers RALPH MURRAY, WILLIAM COPSON, RALPH BOYD, GENE BOYLE, and DONALD PEARSE. On cute little green motor-bikes manufactured by THEODORE PERROTTI, INC. these speedsters will convey the latest in fashion design to the wealthy ladies of the city. Post-debutantes RUTH WEBB, ANN CUMMINGS, KATHERINE GRIDLEY, and ROSALIE FAIRMAN will sponsor these dresses. Shoe manufactures JOSEPH CAPUANO and JOHN CHERCHIONE will have developed new platform soles for milady "designed not only to add extra height but also to add poise and grace to the walk." They will call them "Swellewators."

For the men, bright-colored new suits will be shown with floppy bow ties and large polka dot shirts, and will be modeled by DAVID

CLARKE, JAMES DUNN, JOHN HALEY, ALAN RICH and DONALD ROBBINS. High pressure salesman for the manufacturer—ALBERT SIMKINS—is to be DOUGLAS HARRISON, who will employ his trusty "45" in order to be more persuasive. And speaking of salesmen, the HOWARD JOHNSON special, super-duper ice-cream cones with a safety catch - all "for those extra drips" are sold by former Fuller Brush Man DAVID RANDALL. Also on the same route, WILLIAM EISNOR will introduce his new "Joy-Juice" tonic. It will be designed to give you a jolt with every sip, and have you completely knocked out after two bottles. Tasters and officials for the company should include RAY FRYE, DONALD HARRIS, RICHARD LIBBY, BRIAN LONG, DONALD GOERSHEL, and of course, "Lil Abner."

A new book, fascinating and gripping - - - - "I Was a Child Prodigy," or "How to Get Through School without Doing Any Homework", is to be written by ROY SHOREY!! ROSEMARY FECK, ELAINE MACLACHLAN, and CHARLES LAKE will assist Mr. Shorey on the revision and editiorial work; and CALVIN DOW, CAROL WORTMAN, NORINE CRONIN, and ROLLIN HAYNES will aid him in counting up the millions of order blanks. The original manuscript is to be prepared by head typist MARTHA MacMILLAN and her very efficient staff:NANCY ASHWORTH, MARILYN CALLAHAN, JOANNE CALTON, RUTH COLLINS, JOYCE EALES, PATRICIA DONOVAN, MARY JANE GILLIGAN, LOUISE FARRELL, PHYLLIS RAWDING, BETTY SAVARINO and CARLA ROCKWELL. The publishing company with an eye for the future will be staffed by PAUL ANGELOPOULOS, JOHN KITTREDGE BARNES, ARTHUR MELLING, and RICHARD BAKER with JOSEPH SULLIVAN as travelling salesman. DONALD STRECK will direct the production of illustrations.

And now we switch to that entertainment of all entertainments—the circus!! BUCKNAM and BAILEY, Inc. will really have wonderful talent for a good show under the big top, so let's see who'll excel in this world of freaks, phonies and . . . lovely people! At the top of the list come KOSTA CHRONOPOULOS and his amazing tightrope act. Without a net, he will walk high on the rafters of the circus tent in a death-defying exhibition of skill and daring! Taming the wild animals, we'll see CALVIN COLLINS and his bevy of wildcat assistants: JANICE BEANE, BARBARA BROWN, PRISCILLA DAY, DOLORES DOOLING, and MARY DUSTIN. BEVERLY DOW will keep her audiences spellbound with her strong-woman routine. LOUISE BUSHEE will claim to have the longest hair in captivity, while JACK GRADIJAN, WILLIAM HENDERSON, and PAUL ARCHIBALD will be on display as having the most highly-developed cerebellums anywhere!! Music for the big show may be provided by PAUL GALVIN'S "We Make-the-Noise; You-Plug-Up-Your-Ears" swing group. Pianist PHILIP BATSTONE, guitar player PAUL BURNELL, trumpeter RICHARD JONES, and Paul himself on the drums will make a very pleasing COMBO. And lest we forget, HELEN JORDAN is to appear on stage with them as the smallest vocalist this side of heaven. Master of ceremonies for the show KENNETH MILLER, aided and abetted by his two namesakes, JOYCE and THORNTON, will have the pleasant task of interviewing famous personages who come to each performance. Members of various professional sports teams will receive complimentary tickets for each performance. HOWARD ANDERSON and RENZO LUCCI will represent football; HARRY BEREJIKIAN and his right-hand man GEORGE "HARRY" MELEKIAN will thrill the baseball fans; WILEY BISHOP, nation-wide authority on puzzles will give amazing demonstrations of his prowess in that field, and his helpful "figure-outers" ROBERT BOURQUE, JAMES BROWN, RAY CHIPMAN, RICHARD COLEMAN, ROBERT MANLEY, NATHANIEL MATHIESON, and champion JOHN McAVINN will work with him. CAROL BRISON and her girl-wonder tennis team with stars PATRICIA POWERS, JANET LANDSTROM, WINONA NELSON, and manager PRISCILLA ORTON will show the audience the various strokes which made them champions. ROBERT COX, nationwide authority on hockey, with his manager GEORGE CONN, will bring players ANTHONY MACCARIO, THOMAS RAY, ROBERT LESLIE, ROBERT LeSAFFRE, and injury patcher-upper, BRENDAN O'BRIEN to the circus so that in between acts they may tell the hockey fans in the audience just how they think the Chmicago Black Eyes, and the Old York Roaming Rangers will do in the annual competitions. FLORENCE GOTT, NANCY GRAY, BEVERLEY CLINTON, PATRICIA GREEN, VIRGINIA FRYE, and CONSTANCE FUCHS will demonstrate driving techniques and explain why they BELIEVE in women drivers. DAVID GATES will bring for display his new car — with the motor neatly installed in the glove compartment. And a special attraction—speed demon KENNETH HOLLIS and his Daring Drivers—will test the new jet-propelled engine. Just in case your tires rebel at the rather lazy speed of 250 m.p.h., PATRICIA and JAMES will have a remedy. "When you need a jack to jack up your car, JACK, JACK & SON'S CONSOLIDATED COMPANY, INCORPORATED will rush you one of their faultless tools."

After all this entertainment, you'll probably be exhausted; so we'll take you on a rest tour. Taxi-drivers THOMAS JOHNSON and EDWARD JONES can provide an air-cushioned ride with telephone, TV, and inter-planetary wire connections. They will rush you first past the building of the "Organization for the Preservation and Propagation of the Popularity of Lollipops, Incorporated" where you can see President RICHARD CUTLER; Business Manager, JAMES CRAWFORD; Production Expert, MELVIN DENLEY; and Publicity Chairman, PAUL DESMOND rushing shipments of those delicious candies (if they are not gulped quickly) guaranteed to break teeth, pull out fillings, and stick to your dishes. Packers JANET DEINSTADT, BEVERLY DALY, ELIZABETH HEARN, RUTH DAWLEY; and shippers ANN CUMMINGS, JOANNE DUDLEY, ELEANOR JOHNSON, LORRAINE KING, BARBARA STEEL, and CHARLOTTE LINDBERG declare that these lollipops, if nothing else, are a boon to the profession of Dentistry. As we speed on our way to the hospital, we pass Modern Modeling School where lovely ladies BARBARA DRISCOLL, NANCY FLANDERS, EILEEN HALLAHAN, ELSA HANNEGAN, MARY GUY, CONSTANCE LEVING, and PATRICIA and SHIRLEY MARTIN will teach young girls to be top-flight models. At the next corner on the right, we'll pass the Theater where the Ballet Musse features JOANNE MAZZA and choristers JEAN MAD-

DEN, GERTRUDE NAGEL, PATRICIA MERRILL, DOROTHY O'-LEARY, and BERYL RICHARDSON. Now we will go by the Businessmen's Loafing Club of America whose motto is "Why bother?" President EDWARD DUFF, Vice-President, RICHARD FELTHAM, and Program chairman, WILLIAM KENNEDY are to direct the club's energetic activities. These peppy programs will include chess-playing, with champs PERRY KILLAM and ROBERT KENNEDY; tatting lovely lace hankies (done expertly by Leon HUNEWILL); and listening to CONSTANCE TAYLOR'S "Home Forum Hour for the Little Lady." Active members of this most austere organization are to be FREDERICK TARR, PAUL TONER, CARL TRACY, ROBERT SHAW,EDWARD OLIVER, LORING LUCUS, and FREDERICK RADFORD.

Reigning as Mayor of this beloved city we'll find WILLIAM NEIL. City councillors ROBERT McKENNA, STEPHEN INGLIS, WILLIAM MOLLER, STANLEY WRIGHT, and KENNETH GOODWIN will support him in the coming battle for re-election. It will be a hard fight, because of "dark horse" candidate RONALD LYLE, and his fanatic backers RICHARD FREDERICKSON, ROBERT LYNCH, IRA LEEDHAM, CLIFFORD LYONS, and LAWRENCE SNOW. The political bosses who are to direct the campaign are NORMAN SMALL, JOSEPH ROSSINO, RICHARD WILLIAMS, ALAN GRAHAM, HOWARD DUNNELLS, and ROBERT REDDISH.

Soon on the radio, we'll be hearing the "Discussion Club of the Air." CLIFFORD NELSON and NILS PEARSON will certainly be well informed on world affairs; and PAULINE PERRINS, ANN RUSSELL, and LOUISE RUSSO will contribute to the feminine viewpoint most intelligently! Singing commercialists JESSIE SMITH, SHIRLEY RUSSELL, ANNABELLE PINKHAM, and JOYCE PARK will for years make the rafters ring with their story of "Squeaky, the sad little mouse" who didn't get gooeee cheese for dinner.

Oho! There will be a big scandal in the papers—soon—brilliant lawyer DONALD YOUNG will defend JEANNE ZEMLA from the charges brought against her by MARILYN TURNER. Miss Turner will claim damages for her pet poodly "Scatterbrain" chewed up like a rag by Miss Zemla's dashsund. SUMEDH LEKHYANANDA will preside over the court, and the following worthy citizens will serve on the jury. CHARLOTTE THORNTON, PRISCILLA THOMAS, DAVID NORTON, RICHARD ROSE, and KENNETH NORRIS. Mr. FRANK LOTTRIDGE, Editor of the "Daily Beagle," will predict dire results for Miss Zemla unless Young can dig up old evidence unknown to the general public. Circulation manager GENEVIEVE WAITT, and her assistants; MARY VETREE, MARCIA WATSON, MARY DUSTIN, RUTH LISK, PATRICIA DRISCOLL, and BARBARA KIRMES will rush the editions to the streets after each session of court. But soon the comic section will feature a new and different story by STANLEY FREEMAN — "BUCKY and the Pirates." On the stock exchange page we will read that brokers HENRY MOORE, TROY OOSTERMANN, SEAVER PETERS, and FRANK MOULTON control all international trade of Mexican jumping beans if independent buyers FRED POTTS and EDWARD MURPHY don't flood the market with another brand. President of the Exchange, JOHN

MURPHY, will see lower values coming soon. His secretaries, MARJORIE MEUSE, CECILE LORD, BARBARA SIZER, RUTH SHEEHAN, CATHERINE SULLIVAN, and RENA ORRALL are "certain something will break soon because our boss has chewed up 10 lead pencils, and that means business!!"

In the only woman's telephone company in the world, Chairman of the Board, CAROL YEATON, and her assistant, LILLIAN KOSKOWITZ, will open a new branch office in South Cupcake, a little town near Kluggville. These special telephones will have extra-speedy dials, and the longest tthree minutes on record for just five cents! Designed to make the little woman's life more pleasant by allowing her to talk longer on the phone, these special services will be a boon to woman-kind. Head pole climber, LORRAINE STOREY, and her staff of able assistants; MARGOT SIMONDS, NANCY SNELL, ROBERTA SOMES, ELIZABETH O'CONNOR, and DIANE RATTRAY, will be available on 24-hour service. Operators; AILEEN MacLEOD, DIANE RATTRAY, BEVERLY PUTNAM, GRETCHEN SCHWARZ, and ABBY PRICE have the sweetest voices in the world, and they will never, never, NEVER, break in on a conversation.

Then there will be the new hospital where you may merely go in and REST. Receptionist HAZEL WENTWORTH, and peppy elevator operators BARBARA SQUIRES, BARBARA SULLIVAN, and BEVERLY STANCIL, will squire you all over the hospital—service with a big smile. Staffed by nurses HELEN RAY, PEGGY TRAVALINI, and BARBARA WHITNEY, this wonderful place will be just right for a vacation. While you recuperate from your nervous life, JUDITH POTTER and ANN SCOFIELD will sing you to sleep with sweet lullabies.

Farewell, O youth, my tale is done,
I've prophesied for all.
Each graduate sees his future clear—
But—hark—I hear a call!

Ah, yes, though life is short 'tis true,
It may be filled with joys:
I say with heart bowed down with toil,
"Good luck to girls and boys!"

Presentations of the Class of 1950

Opening

(Sounds of shots coming from the distance)
Appearance on stage

Of original ideas there is a scarcity
So I'm coming out as "Hop-Along Cassidy."

I'm known as the man
With the poker-face pan,
And I can out-draw
The best in the west.

The "drugstore cowboys" of M. H. S.
Have asked me to make these presentations.
But I've travelled far which I hope is an excuse
For this terrible poetry and these gross exaggerations.

DONALD YOUNG — (necktie)

Donnie Young's a necktie fan,
His flashy ties the school should ban,
So here is one a little less bright,
I hope it matches your clothes just right.

PHIL BATSTONE, PAUL GALVIN — (swings)

When it comes to jazz and jive,
These two "hep cats" are sure alive.
They like to jump and swing and sway;
So jump in these and "swing" away.

HARRY BEREJIKIAN — (baseball bat)

Harry is a baseball player,
Out west we all know that;
And so this day we give to him,
A mighty baseball bat.

CYNTHIA BAILEY, DOLLY GOTT, POLLY PERRINS, PAT MERRILL — (lemons)

Four lemons for this group of blondes
To make their tresses light,
Cause they surely must use a lemon rinse
To make their hair so shining bright.

DICK COLEMAN — (Letter "S")

Richard hails from Stoneham way,
Where many sports there he did play;
And so today with happiness,
We proudly present this letter "S".

CAROLE NODSTROM, JEAN TIBBETTS, JEANNETTE TOUSLEY — (cotton)

The Andrew Sisters of M. H. S.
In the past have had their share of success.
But here is some cotton for their ears
To save them from torture in future years.

(Now we have the "Mad Rush-In.")

KENNY HOLLIS — (watch)

You raced through the corridors without any pride,
Your hair was uncombed and your shoes untied.
So here for the price of one thin dime
Is a fine wrist watch to keep you on time

DONNIE PEARSE — (grain of salt)

Many yarns and adventures you unfold,
They've won you the title of "exaggerator" I am told,
So here is a grain of salt today
To take part of the sting away.

CHARLOTTE THORNTON — (Aspirin)

An aspirin for Charlotte is next on the list
She really deserves it, I'm sure you'll insist.
Alone in Math V was no joke, to be sure.
Maybe this aspirin your headaches will cure.

DICK FELTHAM — (stockcar)

Here is Richard, our wonder boy,
Driving an auto is his great joy,
I give him this stockcar to ease his fears
That his Ford will not last throughout the years.

JOE ROSSINO — (pillow)

Joe just loves all his classes in school
But nothing seems to keep him awake,
With this pillow in class he can take a good nap
So don't wake him up for Pete's sake.

RUTH WEBB — (vitamins)

Little Miss Webb has a voice mighty strong,
At all the games she was heard by the throng,
How could such a voice come from one so small?
I have here some vitamins to help her grow tall.

BARBARA BROWN, DICK WILLIAMS — (Mutt and Jeff comic book)

Here's the long and short of the class;
As Mutt and Jeff I'm sure they could pass,

To each a comic book I shall give
To show how the famous Mutt and Jeff live.

ANN CUMMINGS — (handkerchief with telephone number)

There are many boys Ann would just love to meet,
As they go walking by.
Here is a hankie to drop at their feet
So that she may catch their eye.

BILL EISNOR — (ticket to "Bob and Ray")

In radio programs Bill has fine taste
Although his heroes are two quacks they say.
But here is a gift I'm sure he'll enjoy
A ticket to "Matinee with Bob and Ray".

ROSEMARY FECK — (football)

There's one sport Rosemary hasn't played
Though in athletics she fills the bill.
So now I shall give her this football
In order that she may try her skill.

HOWARD JOHNSON — (Pie-man Patty)

Howard Johnson has a name
Like the restaurant man of fame.
His Pie-man Patties are really a treat,
So here is one for you to eat.

ELSA HANNEGAN — (fish hook)

Elsa is our most gullible girl.
She falls for everything she hears.
So here for her now is a hook, line and sinker,
That she may digest them in forth-coming years.

JOHN TITUS, BOB COX, SEAVER PETERS, RONNIE LYLE, BOB REDDISH, GEORGE CONN, DICK BAKER — (gold crowns)

Glory and honor have come to you all,
The hockey champs no one could down.
As a symbol of your greatness, I would like to present
To each of you a special gold crown.

JOYCE MILLER, KEN MILLER, THORNTON MILLER—(sack of flower)

Of three Millers our class can boast,
Their wheat grinding efforts are better than most,
To each of you in this shining hour,
I proudly present a sack of flour.

CALVIN COLLINS — ("Seventeen")

Here's to the "coverboy", the pride of the school.
Your picture in a magazine made all the girls drool,
Here's a copy of "Seventeen" all for yourself,
And I hope your appeal will bring you great wealth.

MAC EDWARDS, BARBARA WHITNEY — (marriage license)

Mac and Barbara have been friends for years,
They've stuck together through happiness and tears
So to make their future bright and gay,
I offer them this license for the wedding day.

LOUISE CLARK — (paint brush)

Louise is no exception to the age old rule
That an artist must never rush.
To help with her painting and steady her hand,
I have for her this old paint brush.

Closing

It's been great fun here at M. H. S.
I am glad I could stay this long.
But I've run out of verse and run out of gifts
So I guess I'll just "hop along".
